Love at First Sight

After months of meeting frogs on Matchmaker.com, and hoping one would turn into a prince, Julie was resigned to remaining single in Sherwood, Oregon.

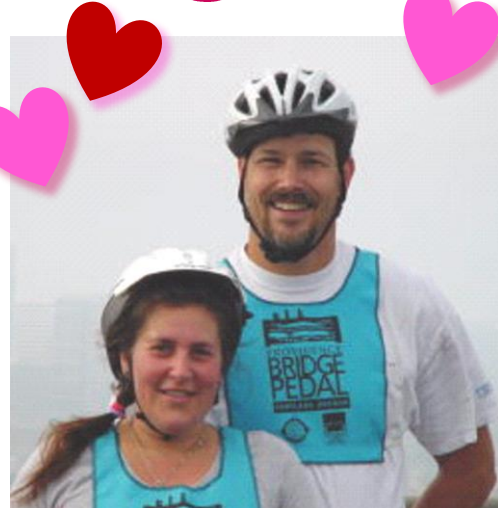

Then one day, in early 2001, she received a note from a tall, dark, handsome fellow.

"He'll break my heart," she thought, sending him a snarky note, hoping he'd go away.

The fellow persisted, writing her everyday!

Finally, she agreed to call him. While not enchanted with their initial conversation, she arranged to meet him at McMenemens Sherwood, a neighborhood pub, a few miles from each of their houses.

As fairytales go, he was her prince, and it didn't take a kiss to find out!

Into the Future

The photo to the right was taken in 2014 by shooting our reflection in a mirror at the Moran Mansion at the Rosario Resort on Orcas Island. It captures our past trips to the resort by boat, and our future of living in the Puget Sound, and enjoying everything it offers.
